

TRAINING COURSES

When you train with us, you're training with the very best in business

Quorum provides a number of courses to train personnel on the essentials of Integrated Logistic Support (ILS) and the associated elements. The courses are designed for both managers and engineers who need to understand the ILS process and the relevant UK Defence Standards.

The following courses are conducted at our purpose built training facility in Telford; however, most of these can be delivered at a customers premises if required:

- Overview of ILS (one day)
- Reliability & Maintainability Engineer (two days)
- Foundation of ILS (two days)
- Reliability & Maintainability Manager (two days)
- System Safety Management & Assurance (two days)
- Management of Project Risk (one day)

Quorum also has a number of ILS Modules, each of approximately two hours in length. The concept is that three modules constitute one day of training. The modules are as follows:

- Training Needs Analysis
- System Safety Engineering
- Risk Analysis
- Reliability Centered Maintenance
- Human Factors Integration
- Bid Responses

ILS Masterclass

Quorum has developed an ILS Masterclass Course that is proving to be extremely popular. The course has been developed to offer a blended learning opportunity to ILS Engineers who aspire to become ILS Managers.

There is a small amount of pre-reading required prior to attending the course, this is some sample documents (Statement of Work, Use Study and ILS Plan) for 'Project Quorum'.

During the course there are a number of group discussions and work-based assignments that allow the students to populate a response document for the 'Project Quorum' pre-reading.
